JobOps Announces Participation at Sage Summit 2008

Minneapolis, MN, Nov. 3, 2008 — JobOps, a Job Management Software solution developed for Sage MAS 90 and Sage MAS 200 ERP systems, announced today that it will showcase JobOps at the Sage Summit Customer conference and exhibition this month in Denver. The conference is being held at the Colorado Convention Center from November 17-20, 2008. The JobOps exhibit will feature product demonstrations of its new JobOps Job Management Software Version 4.3 and Field Service & Dispatch powered by JobOps in booth 913.

JobOps is a comprehensive solution for automating job management functions for make-to-order, installation, and field service/repair companies and is the preferred choice for hundreds of North America's small and mid-sized businesses. Field Service & Dispatch powered by JobOps gives organizations the ability to manage field service resources and deliver timely and cost-effective services.

The new version of JobOps supports Sage Software's Business Insights Explorer and provides users with a single, easy-to-use interface to business-critical information and related job information.

JobOps Version 4.3 also supports Sage Software's new Extended Enterprise Suite that combines financial, operational, customer relations and business intelligence applications that seamlessly connect customer-facing processes with back office data.
